OUR NATIONAL HYMN WRITER.

Among the many autograph letters received by Mrs. Kate Brownlee Sherwood, since the publication of her national poem, "Dream of the Ages," none are so highly prized as one received yesterday, from Rev. Dr. S. F. Smith, author of "America," sung by every church, society and school in the and, and beginning:

"My country its of thee, Sweet land of liberty, Of thee I sing. Land where our fathers died, Land of the Pilgrim's pride, From every mountain side Let freedom ring."

Dr. Smith, though now in his 87th year, is hale and hearty and in the en-joyment of serene and beautiful old age. He resides in a vine-embowered cottage, in one of the suburbs of Bos-ton, but has for some months past spent his time on the Pacific slope, stopping on his return trip, to visit the World's Fair.

What must have been the reflection of the grand old master bard, who has sung a nation, through all its hopes and fears, through wars and pestilence and privation, to the highest pinnacle of numan glory, as he beheld what God has wrought in the splendors of the Columbian Exposition. of the Columbian Exposition.

His praises are sung every time we sound our national air and when the bands strike up "America" and the chorus shouts forth its glad acclaims there is blessing and benediction on the name of the venerable patriot, Dr. Smith. This was one of his rewards at the great World's Fair, all of which he saw and part of which he is.

Dr. Smith's latest autograph letter is written in the firm, close hand, plain as copperplate, characteristic of the men who belonged to an age when pen-manship was not a lost art. Following s the text: "NEWTON CENTRE, MASS., June 7, '90

"You have done yourself great honor in this series of admirable compositions, which are worthy a place among our choicest American patriotic literature. The pictures too, are original and gems

"You have placed the American nation under great ob igations by so beautiful a contribution, so fitting in this centennial year. "I hope your muse will long live and be active.

Cordially yours, S. F. SMITH.

A REPUBLICAN ON PENSIONS.

Gen. H. V. Boynton, an old line Re publican radical and entitled by service and position in the Union army to speak for the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, enters protest against the revokation of the charter of Noah M. Farnham Post, New York for the pussage of resolutions demand-ing a purification of the pension rolls and says:

The reputation and honor of the Grand Army of the Republic are now at stake in this matter. By the action of its highest officers it has been committed to the remarkable proposition, that G. A. R. posts shall not openly discuss and uphold pension reform. It is idle to make answer to this charge by pleading teaching liting. The Grand pleading technicalities. The Grand Army now owes it to itself to support a searching examination of the pension rolls. When this is done not only the Grand Army, but the whole country can be relied upon to insist that none but unworthy cases shall be dropped from the roll of honor.

Under the present widespread belief the restor roll convert he fully rest.

Republicans, and especially Republican veterans, have a high duty to perform in this matter. To neglect it will be a reflection upon their patriotism.

REVISED "STAR SPANGLED BANNER."

Bishop Fallows, in addressing the International Congress for the Suppres-sion of the Drink Traffic, in Chicago, offered to the delegates of the assembled nations, a temperance revision of the "Star Spangled Banner" in the following:

"I am sure that the representatives from abroad will join with me in taking from our national hymn its closing verse with just a little change, as the national song for each of the lands they represent—the land of Hampton and Sydney, the land of Bruce and Scott, the land of O'Connell and Father Math-ew, the land of Guizot and Chateau-briand, the land of Columbus and Isa-bella—that they will take this verse from the land of Washington and Lincoln. We sing our old hymn, My Country 'Tis of Thee, in the strains and tune of God Save the Queen. We sing The Banks and Braes of Bonny Doon again and again, and Erin Mavourneen, Erin go Bragh is upon the lips of many of us. And I know that every temperance worker wishes to put the spirit of the worker wishes to put the spirit of the Marseillaize into this temperance movement, March on to Victory or Death."

"So we give to those and to all they represent our own sentiment: "Conquer we must, for our cause is just, And this be our motto, in God we will trust; And the temperance banner in triump shall wave. O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave."

UNIQUE HISTORIC RING.

From the Jeweler's Monthly. Samuel T. Crosby of Hingham, Mass. has in his possession a mourning ring on which is inscribed, "S. Thaxter, Esq., Ob 23, Nov., 1740" In the ring is set a brilliant shaped like a coffin, and through it can be seen what represents a boay prepared for burial. The ring was one of those given, according to the custom in those times, at the funeral of Col. Samuel Thaxter, who commanded the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company more than 150 years ago. He was grandfather of Maj. Gen. Benjamin Lincoln, of Revolutionary fame, who also commanded the Ancients.

PRESIDENT HARRISON cost us about $125,000 a year for four years, or an aggregate of $500,000 for the four years of his unfortunate rule. He cost us, through extravagance, wasteful legislation, and the impediment to commerce by the McKinley bill, not far from $142,000,000, not estimating the vast depregiation of property caused by the financial disturbance, for which his Administration leads to the contraction of the contract ministration is solely responsible.

In view of what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others, is it not reasonable to bes-leve that it will be of benefit to you?

"I HAVE scrupulously abstained from "I have scrupulously abstained from any interference in the selection of candidates and the announcement of the principles of our party, as I believe that this duty can be best performed by the delegates assembled in convention from all the counties of Ohio."

When the above was read, from Senator Sherman's letter to the Ohio Republican Convention, Governor Mc-Kinley remembered how he had "scrupulously abstained" from the selection of a candidate for Senator when Sherman succeeded himself and when Sherman succeeded himself and his Napoleonic eye took on a new lustre.

TENDENCY TO CENTRALIZATION.

It has always been the claim by Presbyterians that democracy pure and simple, as taught and practiced in that church, gave to the United States its form of government, as first expressed in the declarations of the South Car-olina Presbyterians in the protests of anti-Revolutionary times. A call from Dr. Briggs, following the refusal of the General Assembly to let the New York appeal in his case take its proper course, shows that the tendency to cen-tralization, which marks all associations and governments, when they have become great and strong, is actively at work in this country, in church as well as State. Dr. Briggs says:

"A minority of the church has vio-lated the constitution, has overridden the safeguards of Presbyterian law and precedent. The majority should rally and use every lawful method to undo the damage done to the fair fame of Presbyterianism. Let no man be discouraged. Let no one flinch in the struggle. Let no one leave the ranks. Let the bugle call resound from ocean to ocean, from the gulf to the great lakes, a call to arms of every man who loves the Presbyte-rian church and who wishes her the future to which her history and her present advantage entitle her. Let there be a rally in every presbytery of all who will stand by the constitution and law which have come down to us as a precious heritage from our fathers. "Let each presbytery whose overtures have been so rudely brushed aside and scornfully treated re-assert its position with greater determination before the next general assembly. Let the synod of New York assert its constitutional rights against the general assembly which has so greatly encroached upon them. Let every presbytery and synod which would maintain the graded system of courts, which has until the pres ent day been the pride of Presbyterian ism, overture the next assembly in the interests of orderly procedure.

THE SHERMAN SILVER LAW.

The New York World has taken the views of all members of the present Congress who will talk of all parties, on the Sherman silver law. Some members could not be reached, but enough were heard from to indicate that there is a clear majority in favor of repeal. As this Sherman law (so called) is the product of the leading financiers of the Republican party, and the party in Congress, as the sum and sub-stance of the financial wisdom of that party it is quite amazing to note that almost every Republican in the present Congress is in favor of its repeal.

Of the Ohio Congressmen who tele-graphed the World their views on the silver question, the income tax and the repeal of the state bank tax, the following from Congressman Ikirt will be read with interest:

EAST LIVERPOOL, June 7.
To the Editor of The World:
Favor repeal of Sherman silver law with a proper substitute therefor.
See no valid reason to repeal State

See no valid reason bank tax.

Favor a tax on both beer and incomes, rather than on sugar. Five millions on the former and twelve or fifteen on the latter could be received annually to the relief of the farmer and wage worker and scarcely be felt.

GEORGE P. IKIRT (Dem).

The following, also from the World, is also interesting as indicating that Senator Sherman repudiates, in the crisis of experience, his own child: Senators Brice (Dem.) and Sherman Rep.) are recorded in favor of Sherman act repeal in The World's poll of March

This proud distinction is generally conceded to the United States twanty dollar gold piece, a marvel of beauty in design and finish. The loveliest of God's handi-work is a handsome woman, if in the bloom of health; if she is not, Dr. Pierce's bloom of health; if she is not, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will restore her. Ladies who use this peeriess remedy are unanimous in its praise, for it cures those countless ills which are the bane of their sex—irregularities, dragging down pains, inflammation, hysteria, sleepleasness and the "all gone" sensations which burden their daily lives. A tonic and nervine, without alcohol.

IT is painful to note that Governor Casio,, of the Mexican state of Querrtaro, carried with him all over the United States a box of big opals only to lose them in the establishment of the pious John Wanamaker at Philadelphia-not beneath the drippings of the sanctuary; but right in the sanctuary itself. Such an incident tends to weaken confidence in human nature. Thieves have been known to rob churches and break open poor-boxes but that valuables should be pilfered purloined, abstracted, swiped under the roof and beneath the very nose of the incarnation of Christian statesman ship leads to belief that the world after all is not growing better but is, on the contrary, tobogganing toward the demnition bowwows.—C! leago Herald.

THE weather has now reached that state of perspiration to commence pick-ing out the Democratic standard bearer for the November contest. We can think of twenty Democrats who can defeat McKinley, but let us have the man who can do it with the least effort.

REPUBLICAN LOVE FOR SOLDIERS.

Capt. Alfred E. Lee, Grant's Consul to Frankfort on the Main and a brave and unimpeachable old-line soldier, pays his respects to the blatherskite Republican politicians, who prate of their "love and affection" for the soldier analysis with a software resulted with a sof dier, coupled with a scattering review of pensions and pension degradation. A portion follows: "The attention of the old soldiers of the country ought to be called to the exhibition of love and affection that the Cleveland administration has for them." -Communication to the Ohio State Journal.

The "love and affection" which Republican politicians have for "the soldiers of the country" is something phe-nomenal, as the undersigned has abundant reason to know. It is only sur-passed by the "love and affection" of the pension agents at Washington, some of whom, by means of the com-missions which they have gouged out of "the old soldiers" in the collection of their pensions have become militon aires. A conspicuous example of this "love and affection" was furnished by the late lamented Harrison adminis-tration in the removal of General Corse the wounded hero of Allatoona Pass, from the Boston postoffice. It was admitted that Corse was one of the best postmasters that Boston eved had, and his removal was protester against by many fair minded Republi-cans, but all that weighed not a feather with the greedy Republican partisans, and the narrow minded Indiana pettifogger who happened, by the grace of monopoly, to domineer at the White House. They wanted Corse's head, and they took it as mercilessly as they would have taken that of a confederate or a defaulter. Many similar instances, less conspicuous perhaps, but equally fla-grant, might be given. Another striking illustration of the surpassing affection which the blather skite politicians of the Republican per-suasion bear toward the "old soldiers," is found in the pauper legislation by which they have reduced the veterans who did the fighting, to the same pen-sion level as the shirks, deserters and hospital bummers, who either never smelt gun powder or avoided smelling smelt gun powder or avoided smelling it whenever they could possibly do so. To the national treasury, which it was intended to deplete, this legislation is a fraud; to the lighting veterans which it in effect degrades, it is an outrage. It has loaded the pension roll with men whose disability, if they have any, is the result of their own misdoings, and has been contracted long since the war closed It has enabled hundreds of men of practically no service to draw larger. practically no service to draw larger pensions than can possibly be ob-tained by concientious veterans who served the whole war through, * * * That no deserving pensioner is in the least danger of having his name striken from the pension roll every sensible person knows. It is only the undeserving who are in peril of such treatment, and it is from them and their partisans that the outery against purging the roll proceeds. This class will continue to how and throw dust in the air, but only the weakest and weak-minded will be deceived by the performance, The public opinion in favor of limiting pensions strictly to those whose services and actual service disabilities have merited them is overwhelming and any organization or political party, which undertakes to withstand it will go to the wall.

BOOTH AND LINCOLN.

A gentleman relates an incident to the Pitisburg Dispatch of how Edwin Booth saved the life of Robert Lincoln. It was in 1887 and both gentlemen were waiting for a train. Robert Lincoln grew impatient and was walking along the track, in an absent minded manner and paid no heed to a locomotive backing up the track from a water tank. Mr. Booth stepped forward, and clutchng him by the arm, lifted him almost bodily upon the platform. So near was the engine that it struck the man's heels as they left the track. It happened that Mr. Ford, in whose theater at Washington President was assassinated by Mr. Booth's brother, witnessed the scene described above.

Stepping forward, he said excitedly; "Mr. Bootk, do you know that man?" "No," was the reply.
"It was," said Mr. Ford, "Robert Lincoln—President Lincoln's son," Mr. Booth afterwards said that this act of his gave him more satisfaction than could be represented in any other way, and mentioned the fact that the only vote which he ever cast was for Mr. Lincoln when he ran for President the second time.

THE tight money market is aggra-vated by the criminal stupidity of per-sons in every locality who have drawn their surplus money out of banks and are hording it at home, where it earns nothing. Business men and manufacturers suffer because the banks, being always conservative, are afraid of a raid from timid depositors, and refuse to make loans. It is true that we have parted with considerable gold, on account of the adverse balance of trade, caused by the McKinley bill, but this departed gold was not circulating medium, but idle gold, before it left us; hence the present tight money market is not the result of gold export. If the idle money of the country, now in pri-is not the result of gold export. If the idle money of the country, now in private pockets, and bureau drawers, and in hiding for the prey of burglars and robbers, was put back into the banks, where it could get into circulation, the present stringency would be relieved in a week. The deplorable demagogy of publim men like Governor McKinley in proclaiming that the present stringency is caused by a lack of confidence in the Administration, is doing harm among a considerable class. doing harm among a considerable class, who never stop to think that the best, safest and most business like administration this country ever saw was un-der Grover Cleveland. Many Republican newspapers, notably the Cleveland Leader, are doing their worst to aggra vate the situation, by endorsing the calamity howlers. The Republican press, generally, appears to have reached that state of desperation.

SAVED BY A VISION.

The Washington correspondent of the Cleveland Leader tells how the wife of a clerk saw a vision that saved her husband's life. Referring to the many

I told you so's" hesays: "The solemn truth is that but one human being in Washington or anywhere else felt on last Friday morning that something dreadful was to happen in or about Ford's old theater. That person was a woman, the wife of one of the clerks. She had a vision before breakfast. She saw a disaster, and she saw her husband in it. Therefore she kept him at home. She had had visions before, and the husband, by experience, had learned to know that they amounted to something. Some men would have laughed and gone away to their deaths. This man, however, didn't laugh. He sat on his stoop in the sunshine and played with his children When the floor fell he was smoking a pipe two miles away.

"I believe in this woman, I believe she saw what she says she saw. I know a woman, a good woman, who has seen her son in boisterous company five hundred miles distant. I know another good woman who has seen more things than you would believe were I to enumerate them. This brings us to a sixth sense, as the late Charles Latimer, of Cleveland, used to say. Man can hear and see and taste and smell and feel, and what else can he do? That's the point. By and by the students of electricity and magnetism will discover something that is worth finding out. The human mind will be explored after a while. That's the mystery of all mysteries.

ALL accounts seem to agree that the World's Fair is a very worrysome affair. It is too immense for the average mind to grasp. When the average man or woman enters a building covering forty acres of marsh prairie, all filled with curious curios, and with 28 miles walk n prospect of many such another, a feeling of awful and all-pervading tiredness ensues, which wraps the victim in gloom.
